DETAILED ACTION

Letter of Suspension of Prosecution

1. The letter of suspension dated 11-4-2002 has expired. In reviewing the relevant art, the examiner has discovered that a double patenting rejection with the allowed patent 6,437,064 is appropriate.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 109-115 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 32-39 of U.S. Patent No. 6,437,064 in view of (Mehta et al. (5,358,792) or Hodgson, Jr. (5,206,075) and in view of Newsome (4,457,960).

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the issued patent and the instant application are directed to structures, which comprise a barrier layer and at least one layer made from a polymer made by a single-site catalyst.

4. While the claims in the instant application do not require that the film be heat-shrinkable, instant claims do not preclude heat shrinkable structures; furthermore, Hodgson, Jr. (column 7, lines

35+) and Mehta et al. (Example IX) each teach that oriented multilayer films comprising polymers made by single site catalysis may be produced. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have oriented the films claimed in the instant application so that they would be useful in applications where shinkable films would be used.

5. 2 and 4 layer structures are claimed in the instant application and a five-layer structure is claimed in the allowed patent. However, the two structures are obvious variants of each other. Newsome shows how a conventional structure comprises a barrier surrounded by adhesive layers, two, which are, bound two surface layers. Since adhesion may be a problem, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have included adhesive layers in the claimed structures. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used two surface layers in the claimed structures comprising single sites catalyzed polymers so that both sides of the barrier layer could be protected from moisture and abrasion by coverings. For these reasons, the five-layer structure claimed in the allowed patent is an obvious variation of the structures claimed here.
